FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

XPERTECHS Opens New Data Center and Takes Clients to the Cloud

Ellicott City, Maryland - August, 2012 - XPERTECHS, a leading Network Engineering and Cloud Solutions company, today announced the opening of their highly secure and state of the art data center in Baltimore, MD. The new data center is in response to the growing demand for their cloud services and solutions, allowing the company to expand its cloud presence through the XPERTECHS Cloud Xperience.

The Baltimore data center increases XPERTECHS' capability to support its growing customer base by providing world-class space, capacity and performance in the cloud to drive improved performance for their business. The new data center provides XPERTECHS with added capabilities for global site recovery. The data center is fully operational and has been supporting XPERTECHS customers since April of this year.

"The last year has demonstrated that our customers benefit when we deliver XPERTECHS solutions through our cloud platform," said Michael Mellott, President of XPERTECHS. "We believe an increasing number of customers will be moving their critical data files and applications to the cloud and we are uniquely positioned to help them. The new data center increases our capability to make our cloud solution the primary delivery channel for our customers."

The new data center is built according to XPERTECHS' high global standards. It possesses 24/7/365 security monitoring, with entrances and exits controlled by HID contact-less access control cards, which provide added security. The data center's N+1 redundant electrical design and distribution eliminates the worries of downtime due to power-outages from major storms or other uncontrollable events, in the surrounding area. This allows XPERTECHS to guarantee its customers 99.999% up-time, and un-interrupted connectivity to their network. The Baltimore data center is also a SAS 70 and SSAE 16 Type II compliant facility.
