ASN PICKING for MAPADOC
EFFORTLESS EDI

Scanforce Leads The Pack In Accuracy & Efficiency.

Integration
The ScanForce and MAPADOC teams have worked together to create a tight integration between the two solutions so they integrate as seamlessly with each other as they do with Sage 100.

Mobility
The ASN Picking solution has been designed to run on rugged, wireless, mobile bar code scanning devices. This empowers your staff to capture the picked data accurately and efficiently.

Automation
Once picking has been completed, the data is sent wirelessly and automatically appears within MAPADOC. You can also choose to automate the printing of packing lists and case labels.

Streamlined Picking

MAPADOC already streamlines the creation of EDI orders in your Sage 100 system, but once those orders are in your system, a streamlined picking process will get those orders out accurately and efficiently.

Orders from Sage 100 are automatically available for picking within ScanForce. Items are verified as they are scanned along with the cases they are being placed into. This is all performed at the point-of-activity without requiring any additional interaction with a computer.

Once the data is sent, MAPADOC's Edit Order Package & Label Data is populated and your case labels and packing lists can automatically print without any additional user interaction, allowing the user to apply the case labels immediately.

Bar code scanning confirms that the right merchandise from the order is being picked every time. With the ability to scan the products as they are being placed into cartons/cases, this ensures that the case detail is captured quickly and accurately, eliminating costly chargebacks and the inherent costs that are incurred by shipping errors.
