Streamlined Operations

Bar code data collection can provide enormous benefits for just about any business. ScanForce Warehouse Automation allows users to collect data remotely on rugged, warehouse proven handheld devices, available for Apple iOS, Android, and Windows. Capturing data is faster and more accurate, which minimizes errors and lowers costs while simplifying inventory management.

- Inventory transactions such as physical count and transfers can be performed at point of contact, eliminating time consuming and error-prone manual entry.
- Scan products during purchase order receiving to catch any mistakes right on the receiving dock. Optimize your picking process and eliminate picking errors that lead to unhappy customers and inaccurate inventory.
- ScanForce is scalable, offering fully customized solutions as well as out-of-the-box solutions for Directed Picking, Wave Picking, Container, Receiving, Replenishment, and more. New dashboards provide a graphical view of the most important events happening in your warehouse, from how many orders need to be picked, to user performance statistics.
