Five hundred and thirty-two students from forty-two countries, spread across four continents, constituted the latest batch of students at AIT for the August 2011 session.

Those accepted for admission at AIT include students from North and Central America, Europe, Africa and Asia. Welcoming the students on the occasion of Orientation Day on 10 August 2011, Prof. Said Irandoust, President, AIT, remarked that AIT is a perfect platform for not only learning, but also for forging lifelong friendships, connections and networks. While the Orientation Day on 10 August 2011 was for all postgraduate students, another Orientation Day for undergraduate students is planned on 1 September 2011.
Sri Lankan minister assures continuous support

Deputy Minister of Finance and Planning, Sri Lanka, H.E. Mr. Gitanjana Gunawardena, visited AIT on 16 August 2011, and assured the Institute of continuous support from the Government of Sri Lanka. The Minister stated that the Government is keen that AIT should establish a campus in Sri Lanka under the AIT brand name.

The Minister, while interacting with the AIT President Prof. Said Irandoust, remarked that his Government is actively considering a request for financial support to AIT. He added that the Government of Sri Lanka is working on the issue of allotment of land to AIT, and a formal agreement would emerge very soon.

Professional Master’s Program with Thailand’s MWA

AIT has partnered with the Metropolitan Waterworks Authority (MWA) of Thailand in launching a Professional Master’s Degree Program in Water Technology and Management (PM-WTM).

A Memorandum of Agreement (MoA) for the new professional program to begin this year was signed by Prof. Said Irandoust, President, AIT, and Mr. Charoen Passara, MWA Governor, on 17 August 2011 at the MWA headquarters in Bangkok. Through the agreement, MWA will coordinate with the Royal Thai Government (RTG) and Thailand International Development Cooperation Agency (TICA) to secure at least 15 Professional Master’s scholarships over a period of five years from 2011-2016.

AIT inks MOU with Nobel Laureate of TERI University

AIT has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with India’s TERI University which opens up possibilities for cooperation in a range of academics and research. The MOU was signed on 4 August 2011 by AIT President Said Irandoust and Dr. Rajendra K. Pachauri, Chancellor, TERI University and co-winner of the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize.

The signing was made in conjunction with the opening ceremony of the Fourth International Conference on HealthGIS 2011, which took place in New Delhi, India on 4-6 August. The AIT President was a guest of honor for the conference and delivered the inaugural address. TERI University’s Head of Department of Natural Resources Dr. P.K. Joshi and AIT’s Dr. Nitin K. Tripathi joined to organize the event which attracted over 300 participants.
Public sector reform depends on good governance, political will, community participation, and above all human resource development. This was the view of experts from Thailand, who deliberated on factors critical to public sector reform at a symposium organized for civil servants from Bangladesh, at AIT on 17 August 2011.

Participating in the event were Dr. Somphoch Nophakon, former Deputy Secretary General, Office of the Civil Service Commission (OCSC); Dr. Chaiya Yimvilai, Director for Good Governance Promotion; Dr. Suchit Bunbongkarn, President, Political Development Council; and Ms. Somsook Boonyabancha, Founder of Community Organizations Development Institute (CODI). According to Mr. Voravate Chonlasin, Head, Public Sector Capacity Building Unit, AIT Extension, the program was a part of the Regional Exposure Visit (REV) under the program called “Managing at the Top 2” (MATT2) initiated by the Department for International Development (DFID), UK, and the Ministry of Public Administration, Bangladesh, for senior civil servants from Bangladesh. Forty six senior civil service administrators from Bangladesh attended the two week training program.

ICRIER seeks to connect India to Thailand

A delegation of the Indian Council for Research on International Economic Relation (ICRIER) visited AIT on 11 August 2011, and sought AIT’s opinion on helping India and Thailand connect each other in a more productive manner.

Led by Prof. Arpita Mukherjee, the ICRIER team sought to know more about AIT’s association with the Government of India and other Indian partners. Prof. Mukherjee welcomed AIT’s suggestions on how the two countries could extend their financial partnership, which could contribute towards a planned ICRIER report on “Services Market Access Priorities with Thailand and Indonesia.” The ICRIER delegation was also interested in ascertaining the fields where the Government of India could facilitate cooperation with Thailand and AIT. The ICRIER delegation included Research Associates Ms. Tanu Goyal and Ms. Ramneet Goswami.

Heriot-Watt University for partnership with AIT

Former faculty member of AIT, Prof. Stephen O. Ogunlana, has proposed a partnership between the Heriot-Watt University, Scotland, and AIT. He proposed collaborative research work, joint doctoral programs and student exchange, besides joint teaching of courses, during a visit to AIT on 26 August 2011.

Prof. Ogunlana, who is currently Chair of Construction Project Management at Heriot-Watt University, remarked that the trend in Europe is to increase internationality in all aspects of education. “Anything that brings greater internationality is always considered favorably in the European Union, particularly in the Erasmus programs,” he said. Prof. Ogunlana also suggested joint submission of proposals between Heriot-Watt and AIT.

Partnership with BIMTECH

AIT and Birla Institute of Management Technology (BIMTECH), India have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to strengthen their partnership in the fields of student exchange, joint teaching activities and industry training.

The MoU was signed by AIT President Prof. Said Irandoust and Director, BIMTECH, Dr. H Chaturvedi on 19 August 2011 in Delhi. The MoU was signed in the presence of the Ambassador of The Kingdom of Thailand to India, H.E. Mr. Pisan Manawapat, and H.E. Dr. Tej Bunnag, Former Foreign Minister of Thailand and Chairman, AIT Board of Trustees.

Dr. Tej appreciated the efforts “to expand the knowledge base in the South Asian region in the fields of management and sustainable development areas, through research, collaborative programs and capacity building.” Ambassador Pisan congratulated both partners and offered all the support of the embassy in developing joint activities.
A faculty member of AIT, Prof. Ganesh P. Shivakoti, has co-authored a book with Nobel laureate Ms. Elinor Ostrom, winner of the 2009 Nobel prize in Economics. The book, titled “Improving Irrigation in Asia,” which has just been released by Edward Elgar publishing, is based on a two-decade long study on innovative interventions for sustained performance of irrigation systems.

The book, identifies key factors that help explain the performance of interventions, apart from enumerating lessons for resource management and development assistance. Speaking about the publication, Prof. Shivakoti of AIT’s School of Environment, Development and Resources (SERD), stated that for achieving a sustainable improvement in performance, it is the farmers themselves who need to engage in collective action. “There is need to support local entrepreneurs who provide leadership and stimulate adjustments to change,” he said.

A letter from India thanks the AIT President

A letter from India, written by a student who participated in a summer training program, describes her experience at the Asian Institute of Technology (AIT) as the “most memorable and knowledgeable program ever.”

In a letter written to the AIT President, Prof. Said Irandoust, the second year student of Master’s in Business Administration (MBA), Ms. Shivangi Srivastava of the United Group of Institutes (India), remarked that AIT truly lives up to its slogan of “Learning beyond boundaries.” Students and AIT employees are from different parts of the world, and this makes AIT a truly different campus, she adds. The letter also highlights the plush green campus of the Institute.

Why do 60% of students find their lectures boring?

A newly published study of student boredom suggests that almost 60 per cent of students find at least half their lectures boring - with about 30 per cent claiming to find most or all of their lectures boring. One of the main contributors to student boredom is the use of PowerPoint...writes Dr Sandi Mann in The Guardian. Dr. Mann is a senior lecturer in occupational psychology at the University of Central Lancashire. Read the entire story at this link.
