Local Technology Company Growing and Expanding With New Services

Rochester, NY - Capstone Information Technologies Incorporated, provider of computer IT support services to businesses in Rochester and Buffalo, NY, is proud to announce a ribbon cutting and grand open house celebration for their new corporate headquarters located at 656 Kreag Rd., Pittsford, NY.  Among the guests scheduled to attend are super bowl champ, Roland Williams, Greater Rochester Chamber of Commerce CEO, Bob Duffy, dignitaries Rich Funke and Cheryl Dinolfo, and many local CEOs and business leaders.

"Capstone IT had outgrown our space in Corn Hill. We needed a bigger space and one more suitable for collaboration.  We looked for 2 years and finally found our home." says Co-CEO and 2015 Business Person of the Year, Sitima Fowler. "We wanted to hold more community events and seminars and our space is well suited to meet our needs in this area. We also wanted a space where we had amenities for our employees like a café, game room, and lots of parking. It feels good to be here and our new home further positions us to meet our growth goals. We are excited to share this good news with the business community."

Capstone IT recently moved into a 10,000 square foot building in historic Bushnell's Basin and transformed it into an open floor plan, collaborative work space, and ideal for their day to day operations. The open house celebration on January 14th encourages community leaders to come network in the café, mingle from 4:30 to 7:30pm over cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, and to get inspired by the design space.

A Technology Expo will also be a part of the celebration, with leading technology vendors showcasing their latest products. Attendees will get a firsthand look at Microsoft Office 365, VoIP phone communication systems, and newly released HP tablets, laptops, and desktops. The expo will be held in the large seminar room that is available for the community to rent for their own meetings.
