Sustainable Energy for All in the Asia-Pacific

05 June (Tuesday), 2:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.

Background

Recognizing that we are not moving fast enough to meet the ambitious Goal 7 of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG7), the SEforAll Strategic Framework of Results (SFR) has committed to help partners move “further, faster”. Specifically, the SFR states that SEforALL will:

- Strengthen engagement with countries where there is a need to make swifter progress and it can effect change
- Help other countries achieve their goals, by supporting national plans and processes
- Work through Regional Hubs and local partners to enhance efforts, resources and capacity to develop robust, bankable project pipelines

The joint ADB-UNDP-ESCAP SEforALL Hub for Asia and the Pacific (AP-SEforALL Hub) aims to accelerate and facilitate the achievement of sustainable energy goals in the Asia Pacific Region. Thus, it serves to

1. support countries in the preparation and implementation of national sustainable energy action plans and international commitments,
2. build constructive dialogue on policy, investment and market development by governments, businesses, and civil society and
3. promote regional cooperation in sustainable energy related activities

Objective of the Workshop

1. Disseminate the most recent flagship research reports published and outcomes of conferences organized by SEforALL
2. Provide an overview of the current and planned initiatives of the SEforALL Global Team and the partner thematic hubs and accelerators in the region
3. Communicate how public and private sector organizations, academic institutions, civil society, etc. in the Asia-Pacific can be engaged in the work of SEforALL in the region, and facilitate potential collaboration and gather insights and advice from these regional stakeholders
4. Identify/validate the challenges and innovative solutions for electrification and clean cooking financing in the Asia-Pacific, based on input both from a macro perspective (from SEforALL) and on-the-ground (from market actors).
